3 Questions With ... Philanthropist, Shaundra Turner Jones

Head of U.S. Public Affairs

The Women's Giving Circle of Howard County, Maryland is proud to elevate the voices and giving of our donors and friends throughout Black Philanthropy Month

one

what moves you to give your time, talent and financial resources?

We've been blessed with so much. It's necessary to show our gratitude by being a blessing to others.

two

when did you start giving to issues that are important to you?

Early. My parents encouraged it and in college, where my husband and I met, the student leadership program we both were a part of solidified our spirit of service. Now we are instilling the same spirit in our children.

three

what advice do you have for those interested in giving back?

We are all really good at something. You were given that gift for a reason, so use it for good. Just your presence can benefit someone more than you will ever know.

The Women's Giving Circle is proud to continue our support for National Black Philanthropy Month 2021!

The WGC is building a community of philanthropists and creating a permanent legacy to address the needs of women and girls in Howard County, Maryland.

"We are excited to continue our support of National Black Philanthropy Month" said Hina Naseem and Judy Smith, co-Chairs of WGC's Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Committee. "Informing, involving, inspiring and investing in Black philanthropic leadership and giving are among the goals of this annual celebration and we are committed to advancing this important work in philanthropy, both in our community and across the country."
